

Vlatko Stojanovski graduated at the “Blazhe Koneski” Faculty of Philology in Skopje. His career started at “Shpic” daily, then the “Plusinfo” portal and others. He works at “Fokus” weekly and covers political and civil topics as well as investigative stories on crime and corruption. His story “Spending of agricultural subsidies” won the first award given by the Macedonian Center for International Cooperation and the Institute for Democracy.